Victoria, Saanich Split Over Parks

Joint Committee Close to Quitting

A rift over parks opened yesterday between Victoria and Saanich.

Ald. Hugh Ramsay went as far as to say that he would "heartily support" a move to disband the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee "and let everyone look after their own."

The committee stopped short of that, but recommended to city and Saanich councils that four properties under its jurisdiction be returned to the sole jurisdiction of Saanich.

The four are Mount Tolmie Park, Gyro Park at Cadboro Bay, Memorial Boulevard and Cordova Bay Park, all owned by Saanich.

The committee would retain jurisdiction over Elk and Beaver Lake parks, Mount Douglas and Gorge Park, all city-owned.

A reduced budget would require contributions in the same proportion as last year, when the city paid $8,000 and Saanich $4,000, and city staff would be responsible for work in the parks.

Proposal to return the four parks to the jurisdiction of Saanich municipality came from Coun. Charles Nelles, who said later the reason for it was simplification of administration.

Coun. George Austin of Saanich at first suggested that this proposal meant the disbandment of the committee.

He understood, he said, that Victoria would not register Elk and Beaver lakes as parks, and "if they won't register them, why should we keep on paying out of Saanich funds?"

(Elk and Beaver lakes are waterworks property.)

Doggedness!

KINGSVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Fritzie, a year-old collie, took six months to find his way from Chesley, Ont., back to Kingsville—about 250 miles.

The dog was born in Kingsville. His first home was with Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Wright, who moved from Kingsville to Chesley last spring. They left Fritzie, then a pup, with Mr. Wright's brother, Gerald.

In August, the Chesley Wrights came to visit the Kingsville Wrights and take Fritzie back with them. In Chesley, Fritzie pined, then just left.

Last weekend, Gerald Wright saw a dog that looked like Fritzie, lost it, went home and told his wife.

Mrs. Wright and her daughter, Murial, got into a car and went to check. When the dog got a whiff of Muriel's mitten, his travels were all over.

Gloom Ends March

button-holing every MLA they could find, but it was done in an orderly fashion with small groups delegated to find certain MLAs and present them with a prepared list of questions.

"We want jobs," the men chanted as they marched along Belleville Street from the Crystal Garden where a two-hour labor rally was held before the march on the buildings.

FIGHTING FOR FREEDOM

As they marched onto the buildings grounds the men, and several women among them, sang "Fighting for Freedom."

There appeared to be a placard for about every third person and some read: "70,000 Jobless in B.C., Federation of Labor demands Action Now; Vancouver Labor Council Demands Jobs; Mr. Premier, When are You Calling a Conference on Unemployment as Requested; We Want Jobs at Union Wages; Action Not Words; Nanaimo and Alberni, 7,500 Unemployed."

They formed up in front of the legislative buildings steps and again chanted "we want jobs, why wait to spring, Mr. Bennett?"

Mr. Black stepped onto the steps of the legislative buildings and spoke to the parade.

"This is the first time since the hungry 30s you have marched in front of the legislative buildings. Now go in there and tell them we want jobs and we want them now," he said.

The men filed up the main steps, used only on special occasions. For a time it appeared they would break the iron gates. They didn't realize it was not the right entrance at first, but after a few minutes they came down the stairs and went through the regular front entrance in orderly fashion.

PREMIER'S OFFICE

Inside the buildings at least one plainclothes RCMP was on duty, as inconspicuously as possible. Most of the time he guarded the entrance to the premier's office. When a delegation entered the office of the premier's secretary, the Mountie went in too, but he made no effort to hinder the delegation.

But the delegation wasn't successful on this try in seeing the premier. He had only just arrived back from an Ottawa visit.

Other groups streamed through the marble halls of the buildings and buttonholed all the MLAs and ministers they could find.

LIST OF QUESTIONS

Each group of seven had a prepared list of questions to which they sought yes or no answers.

The questions:

1. Will you support in the legislature the recommendation of the B.C. Federation of Labor on unemployment made to the cabinet on Jan. 5, 1959?

2. Will you support in the legislature the amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act requested by the B.C. Federation of Labor?

3. Are you opposed to further restrictive labor legislation?

4. Are you opposed to the use of the Civil Defence Act in a labor dispute?

5. Will you support a moratorium on debts to prevent a foreclosure on houses and household effects of the unemployed?

Mr. Black said purpose of the march on the legislative buildings was to focus attention on "this emergent situation."

DIFFERENT IN 30s

He said the unemployment situation today was different to the hungry 30s because then if was common to everyone, but today it is not common.

He said today there is a degree of prosperity . . . some people are working and some people are hungry. "It is difficult to reconcile and difficult at today's rising prices," he said.

Crescent Speeds Up For Stricken Sailor

Pacific Command destroyer escorts Fraser, Margaree and Skeena reached Pearl Harbor yesterday after an uneventful trip from Midway.

But the trip was far from uneventful for the remaining ship of the 2nd Canadian Escort Squadron taking part in mid-Pacific exercises.

Crescent was detached from the squadron Saturday to rush a seaman stricken with acute appendicitis to hospital.

Latest reports say the sick man, LS Robert McDonald, 25, of Prince George, is resting comfortably in Triper Hospital near Honolulu. He underwent surgery on Sunday.

The ships go on to San Diego, returning here March 20.

Another Holland America vessel, the Duivendyk, left port late yesterday after discharging general cargo from Europe and California. She is bound for Vancouver.

Thunderbird is due to berth at Ogden Point today. It will join Seacob, already loading, carrying shipments of lumber for U.S. Atlantic ports.

Otello began taking on a cargo of lumber for U.K. this morning. She arrived in port last night.

Merchant shipping in up-Island ports includes the Andros Glamour, Nanaimo; Ventura, Harmac; Riverton, Tahsis; Archnax, Waihemo, Mostun and Bessenggen, Alberni.

Ex-City Man Dies in U.S.

A former Victoria resident for 15 years, Thomas Braidwood, retired manager of B.C. Drugs Ltd., died Sunday at Palm Springs, Calif.

He was manager in Victoria for J. A. Tepoorten & Co., wholesale druggists, who amalgamated with National Drugs Ltd. and formed B.C. Drugs Ltd. with Mr. Braidwood as manager.

For many years, he had been an executive member of the B.C. Liberal Association. Mr. Braidwood is an ex-president of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Surviving are his widow and a son at the family home at 4715 West Second, Vancouver.

How research saved Sherry Anderson's life

SHERRY ANDERSON was born a "blue baby". She had four defects in her heart which robbed her blood of the oxygen it needed. Her parents knew about the "blue baby" operation, but they also knew it had not always been beneficial.

Sherry was particularly fortunate because medical research had just developed a very efficient Heart Pump. This "pump" actually does the work of the heart during an operation, allowing surgeons time to make complete repairs.

Medical research is also striving to discover the various causes of heart disease, with the ultimate hope of preventing it. This valuable work is being correlated and stimulated by the National Heart Foundation of Canada.

Because the life insurance companies in Canada believe in the Heart Foundation, they have given it strong financial support. This is just one of many ways in which these companies help to create a healthier, happier life for Canadians.
